FEATURING FUNDING CHAMPIONS

William Phillis, Ohio Coalition for Equity and Adequacy of School Funding Former State Representative John Patterson

On March 24, 1997 the Ohio Supreme Court issued its first DeRolph decision and ruled that Ohio's system of public school funding is unconstitutional. Twenty-five years later, public education advocates are still at work trying to secure funding legislation that makes a high quality education possible in every community.

Join us as leaders of those efforts offer a history lesson on school funding and what the DeRolph case tells us will make funding legal, an update on the recent progress yet unfinished work of the Fair School Funding Plan, and direction on what we can all do to secure a lasting solution.
