

The presence of the Vouchers Hurt Ohio booth at the Ohio State Fair is helping Ohioans understand their tax dollars have been misappropriated to the private school voucher program.

Hundreds and hundreds of Ohioans are stopping at the Coalition/Vouchers Hurt Ohio booth each day learning that their tax dollars are unconstitutionally being used to subsidize religion via the private school EdChoice voucher program. They are also learning that the students in the public common school system are being harmed by underfunded school district programs and services as a result.

Many of those visiting the booth are being made aware of this egregious EdChoice voucher system for the first time and become visibly disconcerted.

The universal EdChoice voucher scheme making even billionaires eligible for private school vouchers is an affront to the typical fairgoer. (A cross section of Ohioans attends the State Fair.)

Most, if not all, voucher mischief was inserted into legislative bills in the dead of night with no public input or knowledge. However, the secret tax exploitations are being revealed at an accelerating rate.

The voucher schemers have opened a can of worms that is not going to end well for them.
