

Chardon Local School District (Geauga County) Fiscal Advisory Committee—The problem: Ohio has shifted the burden to local taxpayers.

The attached message by the Chardon Schools Fiscal Advisory Committee is right on target regarding the current property tax crisis. The state has failed in its constitutional responsibility for securing a thorough and efficient system of common schools throughout the state.

The state has shifted a major portion of public school funding to the property tax as a result of funding the unconstitutional EdChoice voucher scheme. Ohioans must begin to hold the Governor and legislators individually responsible for the crisis they have created. These public officials blame school districts for the property tax crisis instead of doing the job they were elected to do.
